Words from Pastor Jim

"I Love You"

I hope you will make January an important time to worship and start fresh in the New Year. Starting January 8, we will have a three week look at three words that are hard to get right: I Love You. Each word goes deep and offers a chance to really claim a redefined expression of faith as it plays out in our relationships. Pastor Fenel will be working with me on this series and I believe we will be able to set a tone for 2012.

Lynn Sweet wrote a book that I am finding helpful also entitled : The Three Hardest Words to get Right. Sweet notes:

"What makes the words that everyone most wants to hear so hard to get right? First, the greasy adolescent outpourings these three words frequently generate make each one of them slippery to pick up Second, human language fractures under the pressure these three words exert on it. Third each one of these words is essential to a biblical lifestyle, but each one has been corrupted by a culture that offers us a death style, while calling it a "lifestyle". (Sweet, p. 2)

Those three simple words are at the heart of who we are. Come and let's explore them together.
